Today's Progress...

- Ran first experiment
- Issues with air flow, running at too high pressure, now resolved
- First experiment training against MCH but training seemed unsuccessful, flies actually exhibited preference for MCH after training against MCH

To work on tomorrow...

- Redo training against MCH experiment and try training against OCT. Also try presentation on opposite sides after training to see if flies prefer one side of chamber over other (and this is causing the difference rather than the odor presentation)
